Part I: KO Reads · Part II: Konnect

For designers, videographers, copywriters, and social media creators · May 2026

Kommuniti Content Creator Brief

Document purpose: Give designers, videographers, copywriters, and social media creators a complete understanding of Kommuniti's Phase 1 live products so they can produce posters, reels, explainers, and launch assets that are accurate, on-brand, and compelling.

Last updated: May 2026

Platform context: Phase 1 is live with four products — Konnect, KO Reads, About, and Volunteer. Kommute, Kores, Kreate, and KO Store are coming soon — do not market them as part of either product brief below.

Table of contents

Part	Product	URL	Accent
------	---------	-----	--------

Part I — KO Reads

Product URL: [https://\[your-domain\]/koreads](https://[your-domain]/koreads)

Status: Live (Phase 1 launch product on Kommuniti)

1. Executive summary (30-second pitch)

KO Reads is collaborative publishing for the internet age.

Authors share unreleased book drafts on Kommuniti. Readers don't just consume — they highlight text in the margins, complete bounty tasks (research, taglines, dialogue, plot ideas), vote in community polls, post fan theories, and join story circles. When a contribution is genuinely useful, the author accepts it, credits the reader on the book, and rewards them with KO Coins.

One line: Read unreleased ideas. Shape the final book.

Secondary line: Public drafts · Living margins

2. What problem does KO Reads solve?

For readers	For authors	For Kommuniti
Access to ideas before they're finished	Real feedback before publication	Democratised learning \	shared knowledge
Recognition and KO Coins for sharp thinking	A community that sharpens the work	A decentralised library built over time
Belonging to a book's creation story	Retained voice and final say	Engagement beyond passive scrolling

KO Reads is not a homework platform, a fan-fiction site, or a voting mob that overrides the author. It is a slow, thoughtful, author-led space where curiosity is rewarded.

3. Core messaging pillars (use these everywhere)

Pillar 1 — Curiosity first

- Designed for discovery, not homework.
- Readers are invited to notice what the author missed --- a question, a source, a lived example, a contradiction.
- Tone: literary, calm, intelligent --- not hype or gamification noise.

Pillar 2 — Author-led

- Authors keep ownership of voice and decisions.
- Readers contribute; authors accept, reject, or mark as valuable.
- The author is the editor-in-chief; the community is the sharpening stone.

Pillar 3 — Rewarded value

- Useful work earns recognition (public credits on the book) and KO Coins.
- Quality over volume: “Leave the kind of note an author remembers.”
- Best contributions are precise: missing examples, sharper questions, sources, contradictions, lived detail.

Pillar 4 — Unreleased / draft culture

- Books are shown as Drafts --- manuscripts in progress, not finished products.
- Readers get early access to ideas the world hasn't seen yet.
- Visual metaphor: the margin --- the space beside the official story where quieter truth lives.

4. Official product copy (approved language)

Use these lines directly or adapt slightly — they match the live product.

Context	Copy
Hero headline	Read unreleased ideas. Shape the final book.
Hero sub	A quiet public domain for Kommuniti authors to share drafts, and for curious readers to leave useful comments in the margins. Valuable contributions can be recognized, accepted, and rewarded with KO Coins.
Eyebrow	KO Reads · Public drafts · Living margins
How it works — Read	Open a draft and follow the author’s chapter flow.
How it works — Contribute	Highlight chapter text or complete a bounty task inside a book.
How it works — Get recognized	Authors accept work, pin credits on the book hub, and reward KO Coins.
Contribution guidance	Leave the kind of note an author remembers.
Contribution detail	The best contributions are precise: a missing example, a sharper question, a source, a contradiction, or a lived detail that makes the book more truthful.
Bounties intro	Earn KO Coins by helping shape unreleased books — titles, taglines, research, dialogue, and more.
Creative challenges	Timed bounties — jump in before the clock runs out and help shape the story under pressure.
Broader mission (homepage)	Democratising Education — a citizen-science approach to learning and sharing.

Homepage CTA buttons (Kommuniti main site):

- Primary: Co-Write a Book  (links to </koreads>)
- Alternate: Show Up & Learn  is for Konnect, not KO Reads

KO Reads hub CTAs:

- See Open Bounties
 - Explore Books
 - Track Contributions (requires sign-in)

5. How KO Reads works — user journey (for video scripts)

Journey A — The curious reader (60--90 sec explainer)

1. Land on `/koreads` --- dark literary UI, purple accents, featured manuscript card.
2. Pick a book --- e.g. `Margins of the Common` --- cover shows “Draft”, genre, “Open” badge if accepting contributions.
3. Read a chapter --- cream manuscript page, serif body text (Cormorant Garamond feel).
4. Highlight a passage --- select text, write a margin note (contribution).
5. Or open a bounty --- e.g. “Suggest a sharper tagline” (40 KO Coins) or “Find a real community example” (60 KO Coins).
6. Submit --- author reviews; if accepted/valuable $\rightarrow$ credit on book + KO Coins in wallet.
7. Profile --- see contributions, badges, KO Coin balance.

Journey B — The community participant (Phase 2 features)

1. From a book hub $\rightarrow$ `Community` tab.
2. Vote in a poll --- cover choice, plot direction, pacing, ending.
3. Post a fan theory --- title + body; others upvote.
4. Join a story circle --- beta readers, lore, editing, or general discussion.
5. Read “Behind the story” --- author posts on process, deleted scenes, research.
6. Check Timeline --- see how the book evolved (chapter drops, milestones, rewards).
7. Check Credits --- see who shaped the book (inline + bounty contributors).

Journey C — The author (mention lightly in “for authors” content)

- Authors are invited by Kommuniti admin (not self-serve at launch).
 - They manage books via `Author Desk`: chapters, bounties, review contributions, run polls, close challenges.
 - Message for author-recruitment posters: `“Interested in publishing on KO Reads? Contact the Kommuniti team.”`

6. Feature list — what to show in posters & videos

Phase 1 — Core (always safe to promote)

Feature	What it is	Visual / story idea
---------	------------	---------------------

Phase 2 — Community (promote if live on your instance)

Feature	What it is	Visual / story idea
---------	------------	---------------------

Bounty categories (use as poster series)

Each category can be one social post or one bounty-style graphic:

1. Title
2. Tagline
3. Cover idea
4. Dialogue
5. Paragraph
6. Plot direction
7. Lore
8. Character names
9. Research
10. Beta read
11. Alternate scene \textit{(creative challenge)}
12. Other

Example live seed bounties (use in mockups):

- \textit{Suggest a sharper tagline} --- 40 KO Coins
- \textit{Find a real community example} --- 60 KO Coins

7. Reader badges (gamification — use sparingly)

Earned on profile; good for “achievement” social posts:

Badge	How to earn
First Margin	1+ contribution
Story Shaper	5 accepted contributions
Valuable Voice	1+ marked “valuable”
Decision Maker	Voted in a poll
Fan Theorist	Posted a fan theory
Inner Circle	Joined a story circle
Dedicated Reader	10+ total contributions

Tone note: badges support the story of recognition, not competitive gaming.

8. Example content for mockups & demos

Flagship demo book: \textit{Margins of the Common

Field	Content
Author	Ananya Rao
Subtitle	Notes on people, place, and shared futures
Tagline	Read the draft. Question the frame. Shape the final book.
Genre	Community Futures
Description	An unreleased book about how communities rebuild trust through small, repeatable acts of care.
Author quote	“A book becomes stronger when thoughtful readers leave traces in the margins.”
Chapter 1	The First Margin — introduces the margin metaphor and KO Reads philosophy

Use this book title in posters unless real published titles replace it.

Chapter 1 opening (for typography / video B-roll)

> Every community has a page that is already written and a margin that is still open...

> KO Reads begins in that margin. It treats readers not as passive consumers, but as people who can notice what an author misses.

9. Brand & visual guidelines

Color palette

Color	Hex	Usage
Deep navy	#0B1828	Primary background
Darker navy	#060D16	Section bands (bounties, footer blocks)
Cream text	#F0E8D5	Body copy on dark
Gold	#C9A84C	KO Coins, credits, chapter numbers, pinned contributors
Teal	#6BBFB5	“Open for contribution” badges
Blue	#4895EF	Countdown / next chapter drop
Orange	#FF6B35	Creative challenges only
Manuscript cream	#F0E8D5	Chapter reader background (inside reading view)

Book cover gradient colors (for mock spines): purple, gold, teal, blue, orange, olive #8B9A2A.

Typography

Role	Font	Notes
Headlines	Syne (extra bold)	Tight tracking, large scale
Chapter body	Cormorant Garamond	Serif, literary, \textasciitilde{}22px feel
Labels / UI	Uppercase, 9--11px, wide letter-spacing	“OPEN BOUNTIES”, “FEATURED MANUSCRIPT”
Accent labels	Purple #C77DFF, 10px uppercase, tracking 3--4px

Visual mood board keywords

- Dark library at night
- Manuscript margins with pencil notes
- Glowing purple on navy (digital, not fantasy)

- Draft stamps, not “NEW RELEASE”
- Slow, editorial, Notion-meets-literary-journal
- \textbf{Avoid:} bright white SaaS UI, childish gamification, “earn money fast” aesthetics

Logo & platform

- KO Reads lives under \textbf{Kommuniti} (sunflower 🌻 logo).
- Always mention \textbf{Kommuniti} in footer/small print on posters.
- Product icon association: 📖 + purple \texttt{#C77DFF}.

Do’s and don’ts

Do	Don’t
Say “draft”, “unreleased”, “margin”, “shape”	Say “published bestseller”, “finished ebook”
Show highlight + comment interaction	Imply readers rewrite the author’s book
Mention KO Coins as recognition	Promise cash withdrawal or KO Store (not live)
Use purple + gold on dark navy	Use Kommuniti orange as primary KO Reads color
Emphasise quality contributions	Emphasise spamming comments for rewards
Show author photo/quote when available	Invent authors without approval

10. Target audiences

Primary — Curious readers (18--35, India + diaspora)

- Loves ideas, essays, long-form thinking
- Already on Substack, Medium, BookTok, Reddit book threads
- Wants to \textbf{matter} --- not just consume
- Hook: \textit{“Read the book before the world does.”}

Secondary — Aspiring writers & researchers

- Wants portfolio proof of sharp thinking
- Hook: \textit{“Get credited on a real book. Earn KO Coins.”}

Tertiary — Community / civic-minded thinkers

- Aligns with Kommuniti’s Kore/neighbourhood mission
- Hook: \textit{“Community Futures --- help write the books our neighbourhoods need.”}

Authors (recruitment, not mass audience)

- Researchers, essayists, community organisers
 - Hook: \textit{"Your draft. Your voice. A community that sharpens the work."}

11. Poster concepts (ready-to-brief)

Poster 1 — Hero launch

- \textbf{Headline:} Read unreleased ideas. Shape the final book.
- \textbf{Visual:} Dark navy, purple glow, open book with highlighted margin line

- \textbf{Sub:} Open bounty: Find a real community example · 60 (KO Coin)
- \textbf{Visual:} Gold coin + purple bounty card mockup
- \textbf{CTA:} See open bounties $\rightarrow$ /koreads

Poster 3 — Margin metaphor

- \textbf{Headline:} Every book has a margin.
- \textbf{Body:} The official story is written. The quieter truth is still open. KO Reads lives there.
- \textbf{Visual:} Split page --- left “official text”, right margin with handwritten-style notes

Poster 4 — Three steps

- \textbf{Read} $\rightarrow$ \textbf{Contribute} $\rightarrow$ \textbf{Get recognized}
- Three icons, purple accent, minimal grid

Poster 5 — Featured book

- \textbf{Book:} Margins of the Common
- \textbf{Tagline:} Read the draft. Question the frame. Shape the final book.
- \textbf{Author:} Ananya Rao + spotlight quote
- \textbf{Badge:} OPEN FOR CONTRIBUTION

Poster 6 — Creative challenge (urgency)

- Orange accent \texttt{#FF6B35}
- \textbf{Headline:} Challenge ends soon
- Countdown visual
- Use only when a real timed challenge is live

Poster 7 — Community edition (Phase 2)

- \textbf{Headline:} More than reading.
 - Icons: Poll · Theory · Circle · Timeline
 - \textbf{Sub:} Vote. Speculate. Belong.

End of Part I — KO Reads

Part II — Konnect

Product URL: `https://[your-domain]/konnect`

Admin CMS: `/admin/konnect`

Status: Live (Phase 1 launch product on Kommuniti)

1. Executive summary (30-second pitch)

Konnect is community-powered learning — workshops, talks, and skill sessions led by Kore members across Kerala and online.

Members show up, learn from facilitators in their neighbourhood, and earn KO Coins for participation. Sessions span natural building, farming, finance, crafts, wellness, and more — curated as colourful event tiles on a single hub page.

One line: Learn from your community.

Secondary line: Skill up · Share forward · Earn KO Coins

2. What problem does Konnect solve?

For learners	For facilitators / Kores	For Kommuniti
Accessible, local skill-building beyond formal institutions	A stage to share expertise and build reputation	Democratised education through peer learning
Discover sessions by format (in-person, online, on-demand)	Community events that drive Kore visibility	Engagement that rewards attendance with KO Coins
Connection to real practitioners (farmers, artisans, builders)	Workshops as income and community glue	Phase 1 “show up \	learn” entry point

About page pillar framing (KONNECT — Sharing & Learning):

- \textit{Conversations and storytelling have ever been a part of human evolution. Kommuniti encourages meaningful discussions that open minds from different perspectives.}
- \textit{Through talks, workshops, events, webinars and conferences, we create awareness about the larger goal of life.}

Konnnect is not a generic MOOC platform, corporate training portal, or ticket marketplace with in-app checkout at launch. Registration links out to external URLs; the product is a curated discovery hub for community sessions.

3. Core messaging pillars (use these everywhere)

Pillar 1 — Learn from your community

- Knowledge lives in Kores --- farmers, artisans, builders, facilitators.
- Tone: practical, grounded, Kerala-rooted but globally resonant.
- Hero promise: \textbf{Learn from your community.}

Pillar 2 — Show up & connect

- In-person sessions across Kores; online and on-demand options.
- Homepage primary CTA: \textbf{Show Up & Learn $\rightarrow$} (links to \texttt{/konnnect}).
- Emphasis on presence, not passive scrolling.

Pillar 3 — Skill up · Share forward

- Tagline on the Konnect page hero eyebrow.
- Implies reciprocal community --- learn today, teach tomorrow.

Pillar 4 — Earn KO Coins

- Sessions can display \textbf{(KO Coin) Earn X KO} on event tiles.
 - Featured workshop shows dual pricing: \textbf{₹3,500} or \textbf{875 KO Coins}; \textbf{Earn 500 KO Coins} on completion.
 - Talk about KO Coins as \textbf{recognition and community currency}, not “get rich quick.”

5. How Konnect works — user journey (for video scripts)

Journey A — Discover & register (45--60 sec explainer)

1. \textbf{Land on \texttt{/konnect}} --- dark navy page, orange accent, gradient hero.
2. \textbf{Read hero} --- “Konnect. Learn from your community.” + filter tabs.
3. \textbf{Browse tiles} --- colourful cards with month/day, topic, facilitator.
4. \textbf{Filter} --- tap Online vs In-Person vs On-Demand, or stay on Upcoming.
5. \textbf{Click a session} --- external registration opens in new tab (if URL configured).
6. \textbf{Featured workshop} --- scroll to “Regenerative Living Intensive”; tap Book Now.

Journey B — Admin / ops (mention lightly in “behind the scenes” content)

1. Admin opens \texttt{/admin/konnect}.
 2. Tabs: \textbf{Page Copy}, \textbf{Events}, \textbf{Featured Workshop}.
 3. Add event, set date (auto-fills month/day labels), tile color, registration URL, KO Coins.
 4. Changes appear immediately on public \texttt{/konnect}.

UI / labels / tabs	Rajdhani 700	Tagline, tabs, section labels, metadata, buttons
Serif accent	Cormorant Garamond	Site-wide taglines on homepage/footer; less used on /konnnect itself

Labels use uppercase micro-copy with wide letter-spacing (2--3px).

Visual mood board keywords

- Dark, warm community-education hub
- Bold poster-like event tiles on navy
- Calendar / festival poster energy --- not corporate webinar
- Kerala-rooted practitioners, hands-on learning
- Orange glow on dark navy (digital, energetic)
- \textbf{Avoid:} bright white SaaS UI, generic Zoom webinar aesthetic, “earn money fast” framing

Logo & platform

- Konnect lives under \textbf{Kommuniti} (sunflower 🌻 logo).

- Always mention Kommuniti in footer/small print on posters.
- Product icon association: 🎓 + orange K.

Do's and don'ts

Do	Don't
Say “show up”, “learn”, “workshop”, “session”	Say “book inside the app” (external links only)
Show colourful event tile grid	Imply every session earns KO Coins (only if set in CMS)
Use orange + gold on dark navy	Use KO Reads purple as Konnect primary color
Emphasise real facilitators and Kores	Invent facilitator names without approval
Show filter tabs (Upcoming / Online / In-Person / On-Demand)	Market Kommute / Kores / Kreate as part of Konnect

9. Target audiences

Primary — Lifelong learners & community builders (18--40, Kerala + diaspora)

- Wants practical skills --- farming, building, finance, crafts
- Prefers learning from real practitioners over textbooks
- Hook: “Learn from the people already doing it in your neighbourhood.”

Secondary — Event-curious professionals & creatives

- Attends workshops, talks, intensives
- Hook: “Show up. Skill up. Earn KO Coins.”

Tertiary — Kore members & facilitators (future recruitment)

- Has expertise to share with the community
- Hook: “Your Kore has knowledge worth sharing.”
- Note: no self-serve facilitator apply form at launch --- contact Kommuniti team.

Volunteers (cross-promotion)

- Community Events Coordinator role --- help plan and run Konnect workshops

- Hook: \textit{"Help bring learning to your neighbourhood."}

10. Poster concepts (ready-to-brief)

Poster 1 — Hero launch

15. KO Coins — explain simply for creators

- \textbf{What:} Kommuniti’s community currency ((KO Coin)).
- \textbf{On Konnect:} Optional per-event “Earn X KO” on tiles; featured banner shows earn amount + KO Coin price alternative.
- \textbf{Featured example:} Complete the 6-week series $\rightarrow$ \textbf{500 KO Coins}; pay \textbf{875 KO Coins} instead of ₹3,500.
- \textbf{How to talk about it:} Reward for showing up and learning --- ties to broader Kommuniti economy.
- \textbf{Visual:} Gold \texttt{#C9A84C} for coin-related text.
- \textbf{Reality check:} Display-only at launch --- no automatic wallet credit on attendance yet.
